Volume XXXIX

Have two goals: wisdom-
that is, knowing and doing right-and common sense.
Don't let them slip away,
for they fill you with living
energy and bring you honor and respect.
Proverbs 3:21-22

[2000-2001]

This Graduating class of 2001 marks the 40th class to march onto bigger things from St. Andrews. When the Class of 1961 graduated the world was a different place.

But some things remain constant here at St. Andrews.

Why Are We Here?

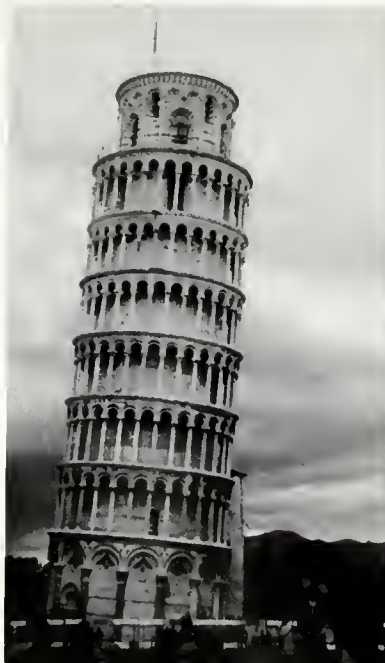

Why are we here?
St. Andrews is a diverse little school
where everyone does not fit into a nice neat mold.
Our Campus is unique because we all come together to build a supportive community despite our different interests.

Students are encouraged to grow here through travel, internships, and personal relationships. Students learn to explore and think for themselves.

St. Andrews College Pipe Band

The St. Andrews College Pipe Band competes at several Highland Games each year, including Charleston, South Carolina; Stone Mountain, Georgia; Richmond, Virginia; and Loch Norman, North Carolina. This year the band was privileged to be asked to open for the Legendary Black Watch. The Black Watch Pipe Band is world famous, touring as Britain's premier military band.

LAMP AND SHIELD 2000-2001

"Here we come, walking with the ladder, we look a little funny, waving at everyone we meet. Hey, Hey, we are the yearbook staff." Somehow, for some unforeseen reason the yearbook staff decided to do something original for our picture this year

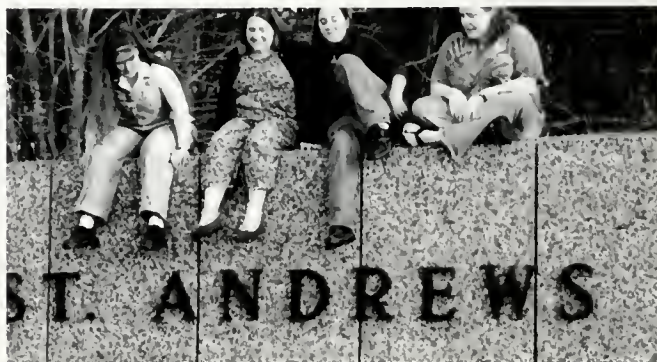

We knew that we needed a ladder to get to the top of the sign. The only ladder that we could find was a 12-foot ladder owned by the Theatre Department. Since none of the staff had a car that could handle the ladder we walked. (Katherine and Stacy are in the car driving by and taking pictures).

After some debate on where to put the ladder we finally found a relatively safe place to put the ladder. First there was one . . .

And then came two . . .

. . . Three and four followed close behind.

Who knew that taking a club picture would require so much work? We all posed for several pictures (only a few of them made the cut).

Then it was time to get down.

There is someone else that we must mention when talking about the yearbook staff - Becky Mason. It seems that Becky went out to the sign and waited, but sadly she left before we had walked out there with the ladder. Even though she is not in the pictures she is a member of the staff and needs to be recognized.

(Photographs by Stacey Yongue)

Clubs Not

For one reason or another the yearbook staff was not able to get all of the club pictures taken this year. We thought that instead of leaving them out altogether that we would acknowledge each club and tell a little bit about each of them.

Business Club - Increases interest in and promotes a greater knowledge of business and economics through community service and profit-generating enterprises. One of the most recent profit-generating enterprises led the Business Club to open a Snack Bar in the Gathering Place.

Christian Student Fellowship - Promotes and enhances the condition of Christian Life on campus through worship, study, and fellowship.

Eco-Action - Raises awareness of local and global environmental issues and encourages St. Andrews and the larger community to take action aimed at conserving and defending the environment.

'GANZA Core - These fine people are in charge of fund-raising and the planning of 'GANZA.

Laboratory Assistant Program - The members of this club provide a great service to the students who are in need of extra lab time. Without these people, a lot of budding scientists would not have time to complete their labs for class.

Model UN Club - For students on campus who are interested in the inner-workings of the United Nations, they now are given a place to learn. Students compete in mock UN conferences at various times during the year.

PATHWAYS - Do you remember the six degrees of wellness that you learned in "Lifetime Wellness?" Well PATHWAYS' main concern is to maximize your abilities to choose the path that sets you on a course for obtaining your maximum well-being.

Psychology Club - This club promotes the interest of psychology on campus. The Psychology Club is not for psych majors only, all are welcome.

Student Government Association (SGA) - SGA is composed of the Cabinet, the Senate, the Student Faculty Hearing Board, the Appellate Court, and reaches out to all clubs and organizations that are on campus.

Pictured

Symposium - This club provides a forum for the presentation and discussion of philosophical issues through paper presentations by students, faculty and visiting faculty, and open discussion of those papers.

World Cultures Club - You don't have to travel abroad to experience different cultures. Through a sharing of different cultures, traditions, and customs of other countries, students are able to escape to other countries even if only for a short time.

Alpha Chi - This National Honor Society promotes academic excellence and exemplary character among college and university students.

St. Andrews Honor Society - This includes all juniors and seniors enrolled during the Spring Term who have earned an overall average of 3.5 or better on a minimum of 49 credits.

Archaeological Internship: Scotland 2000

In March 2000, the Meftah Scholarship was awarded to Katherine McCracken and Zarah Kennedy. This scholarship allowed them to spend over six weeks, from July 2000-August 2000, living and working on an active archaeological dig site in the Highlands of Scotland. Katherine and Zarah helped run the Tarbat Discovery Centre and participated in the on-site field school conducted by the University of York. They lived in a tiny village called Portmahomack on the northeast coast of Scotland. This opportunity allowed them to get to know the locals and archaeologists well. Portmahomack is so small that it only has one store/post office and one public telephone! Both Katherine and Zarah were able to travel during their stay.

The 2001 Lamp and Shield is Dedicated to

Dr. Alexander began his long career at St. Andrews in 1961 and is now regarded as the Distinguished Professor of Philosophy and Religion.

Many people know what he has become since he came to St. Andrews, but few people know what Dr. A did before he arrived.

Dr. A graduated from Davidson College in 1950 and went on to receive degrees from Louisville Theological Seminary (1953), Harvard University (1957), and Princeton Theological Seminary (1961).

He has been an Army Chaplain, a college wrestler, and even a wrestling coach.

"Historian of Philosophy and just about everything else," is the way that one of his colleagues describes him.

A linguist of six different languages, an avid traveler, a dabbling archaeologist, a racquetball player, and reading are a few of his hobbies.

Dr. A has several grandchildren, with whom he enjoys spending time.

An interesting part of his personality is that he doesn't embrace any of the technological advances that have been made recently. He doesn't use copiers, faxes, or even computers and he rarely watches television.

He has been widely published on why philosophy has avoided the topic of sex.

Dr. Alexander has been at St. Andrews teaching full-time for 40 years. He is one of the founders of the SAGE program.

On top of everything else that he has done in his life he has been enriching the lives of the students, not to mention everyone else that he meets during his time here.

William M. Alexander

(or Dr. A to his Students)

Dr. Alexander identifies his most memorable moment at St. Andrews in a most interesting way. To him the most memorable moment is the start of each semester. Each semester holds such possibilities and promise for not only his students but also himself.

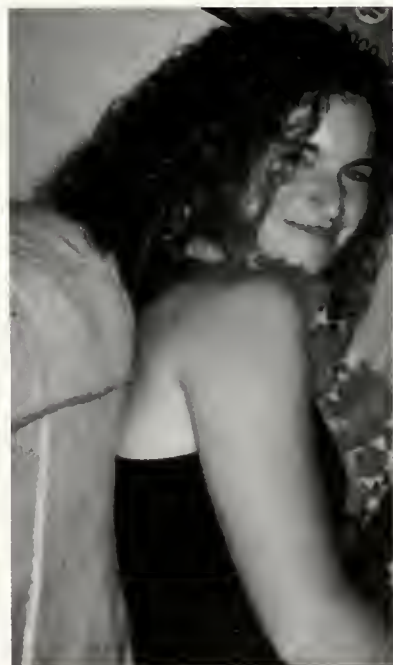

"I always wanted to teach in a place like St. Andrews."--Dr. Alexander

On behalf of the school, the Yearbook Staff wants to thank you for always wanting to teach at a school like St. Andrews.

Thank you for teaching us and enriching our lives.

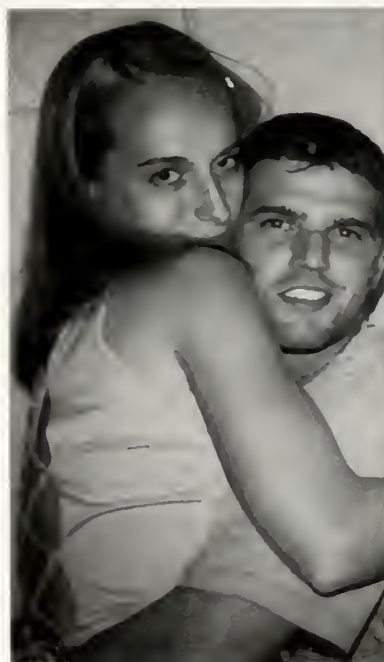

What can I say . . .

There are so many people that I need to thank for their help, contributions, and support during this past year.

First of all, I need to congratulate Carrie Gordon on winning the First Annual Yearbook Cover Contest. I hope that we were able to do your work justice when adding color.

Thanks to everyone who participated in the contest.

And now lets take time to thank everyone else.

Rooney -- I cannot thank you enough for putting up with the last minute picture orders. Thanks for helping with the students pictures and for lending me your cameras to take the sports pictures.

Meg -- Thanks for printing the wrong pictures, but doing a great job at it. Also, thanks for helping out on the last deadline.

Melissa -- Thank you for doing a great job developing all of our pictures.

Jim -- Thanks for the ladder. Without it, the yearbook club picture would never have been.

This was the greatest yearbook staff, I don't know what I could have done without you guys.

Mindy -- What can I say . . . thanks for putting up with me during deadline times and for joining yearbook in the first place.

Katherine -- I want to thank you for all your help and for sticking around even after the Pipe Band spread was done.

Cristina -- I love the magnetic poetry idea. Thanks for all your pictures and ideas.

Becky -- I appreciate you letting me rope you up into the yearbook staff.

Rossi -- Thanks for trying to get the golf pictures, and for all of your other help.

Jen -- Thanks for all of your caption help, I really appreciate you coming to my rescue many times.

Stacey -- Thanks for coming through with the dividers and for taking the club picture.

And to the two best advisors Becky and Ann

THANK YOU VERY MUCH for all of your help and advice.

Thanks for the office and the computers. In general I really appreciate you both for stepping up and advising the staff this year.

And to anyone and everyone that I might have forgotten I really want to thank you.

Finally to the Lamp and Shield staff of 2001-2002 I offer you this challenge:

Top our club picture!!!!!!

Some Final thoughts . . .

I just want to close by wishing all of the seniors good luck in all their adventures and experiences in their life.

Some men see things as they are and say,
"Why?" I dream things that never were and say,
"Why not?" -George Bernard Shaw

I never did a days work in my life-it was all fun.
-Thomas Edison

Some people come into our lives, leave footprints on our hearts, and we are never the same.

"There's only us, there's only this.
Forget regret or life is yours to miss . . .
There's only now, there's only here
Give in to love or live in fear.
No other path, no other way, no day but today."
-Johnathan Larson, Rent

"To be nobody but yourself in a world which is doing its best, night and day, to make you everybody else means to fight the hardest battle which any human being can fight; and never stop fighting."
-e.e. cummings

"The greatest happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved - loved for ourselves, or rather, loved in spite of ourselves."
-Victor Hugo

"I'm the one that has to die when it's time for me to die, so let me live my life, the way I want to."
-Jimi Hendrix

"Do not go gentle into that good night,
Old age should burn and rave at close of day;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light."
-Dylan Thomas, Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night

And with that thought the 2000-2001 Lamp and Shield comes to a close.
